

Thursday, 17 July 2014

Media statement

Outcome of Fair Work Commission hearing regarding industrial action

Devondale Murray Goulburn (MG) is pleased that following a hearing at the Fair Work Commission this morning the Australian Manufacturing Workers' Union (AMWU) and Electrical Trade Union (ETU) have agreed to withdraw their notice to take unspecified industrial action against MG. This is a positive outcome for MG as the company is no longer faced with unspecified periods of industrial action.

As previously stated, MG has tabled an offer which we believe offers a fair outcome for our employees – one which delivers wage increases above inflation, protects current entitlements and supports MG's business to become more sustainable in the future. We remain confident that the parties will be able to reach an agreement shortly.

Media contact: Tim Muir, Communications Manager, 0447 500 422