

MG Milkroom update

Update 1 | October 2017

MG Milkroom, our new supplier website will make it easier for you to access your farm information on the go.

Due for release in January 2018, MG Milkroom will replace MGFarm, providing you with instant access to the critical information and tools required to support the productivity and profitability of your farm business. With simple navigation and the ability to view on mobile devices, you can easily locate real-time information, when you need it.
